

Mark Ostach

CULTURE CONSULTANT

Mark Ostach is on a mission to help professionals, teams, and leaders connect with themselves, each other, and their collective purpose. Mark's goal is to restore energy and focus to organizations and individuals battling modern life's non-stop pace and growing sense of disconnection. A wellspring of energy and born empath, Mark holds degrees in business, psychology and technology. A recipient of Crain's Detroit Business 20 in Their 20s and Oakland County's 40 Under 40 awards, he's an experienced leader who's helped create strong cultures at several prominent businesses in Metro Detroit.

Clients have shared that Mark is insightful, engaging, creative, motivating and empathetic. He works from a leadership model that supports people to become more present and engaged. Mark works to raise his clients' levels of self-awareness and identify strengths to support movement towards personal & professional goals.

CLIENT, ORGANIZATION, AND INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Mark's coaching experience covers multiple industries, including professional services, technology, sales, engineering, insurance, healthcare, non-profit, and various organizations in Detroit's start-up community. His focus is on organizational and personal development coaching. He believes that encouragement and experiences that push you to your edge are core to building a successful coaching relationship. Mark has an uncanny ability to engage any room he walks into as a facilitator and keynote speaker. In every role, he is committed to bringing conscious energy into his clients in their efforts to create a positive mindset while feeling great about the work they are doing.

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Mark has a wealth of unique experiences that he draws from. Most of them center around people operations and organizational development. As a previous COO for a software development company, he's led the talent management life cycle for over 40 people within a 5 year span. More recently, he directed a team of sales people and led the client service side of a brand strategy studio. Additionally, he has spent the past 5 years as a Leadership Facilitator for Detroit Regional Chambers Leadership Detroit program.

After leaving his previous leadership positions to pursue culture consulting full time, Mark has developed a national portfolio of clients that he's helped. Mark continually draws from these experiences in helping his clients define and attain a clear sense of connection in their lives, their teams, and the work they are doing.

Education, Certifications, Memberships, Publications

Albion College
B.A., Psychology with a concentration in Neuroscience
B.A., Economics & Management

Walsh College
Masters of Information Systems Management

Project Management Professionals, PMP Certified

Denison Consulting
Denison Culture Training

Everything DiSC Workplace Certified

Zingermans ZingTrain
Visioning Training Certified

Courage to Connect
1st book to be released in March of 2020

Creator of the Tiny Gratitude Notebook

